SMALL HOLLOW EYELETS

These hollow eyelets provide an easy and convenient alternative to the "brass bradding" of tape runs. Their larger size and ease of handling greatly simplifies the electrical connection process. They may be used as a substitute for 1/8" brass brads in almost all applications. To install, first make a starter hole using either our No. 55 drill bit or the CK1044 Awl. Next, place the eyelet in the hole and push in for a quick and absolutely positive electrical connection.

Eyelets are brass and measure approximately 1/8" long with an inside diameter of .044" and outside diameter of .056". Packaged in quantities of 20 and 110.

Instructions included in each package.

LARGE HOLLOW EYELETS

Most imported lamps come equipped with a larger but not to scale Hong Kong type plug. For those not wishing to discard this plug, our CK1023-2 eyelets provide a simple alternative. First, using the plug attached to the lamp as a guide, mark two holes on the tape run. Then, using either the CK1044 Awl or a No. 52 drill bit, make two starter holes and insert the eyelets. The lamp plug may now be directly inserted, making for an attractively flush and easy to install outlet.

Eyelets are brass and measure approximately 3/8" long with an inside diameter of .054" and outside diameter of .071".

Packaged in quantities of 20.

Instructions in package.

SPRING-LOADED EYELETS

These eyelets are made especially for use with our CK801 and CK804 series of adapters. The internal springs grip the adapter pins and securely hold the chandelier or sconce firmly in place. Tests have shown them capable of holding fixtures in excess of four ounces. The eyelets are also used for mounting of the CK1011 switch.

WOOD SCREWS

These small threaded wood screws are designed primarily to hold a Junction Splice in place but are also useful in any miniature project requiring small fasteners. The screws are approximately 3/16" long and .060" in diameter.

HEADLESS PINS

These pins are an integral part of the Round Wiring and are used during the wiring process as electrical standoffs and connection points between wiring runs. They are also used with the Adapter Cords.

Pins are made of solid brass and measure approximately 1/2" in length by .032" in diameter. Solder when used with tapewire for best electrical contact.

BRADS

Our 1/8" brads are some of the smallest in the world. When folded corners in a tape run are not desired these small, precisely made brads provide a very unobtrusive and effective means of establishing electrical connection. Their small size permits usage on even the thinnest of wood walls and nearly disappear from view when pounded into a conductive tape run. Measure approximately 1/8" by .024".
